ALTERNATIVES &
INNOVATIONS

Clean Water Hui

JOIN WAI's Clean Water Hui to help protect water quality, reduce sewage pollution and restore healthy watersheds in Hawai'i. The Hui is an alliance of community members who will assist in spreading awareness & education about wastewater management problems in Hawai'i and gain knowledge into the unique problems and solutions that exist in our communities.

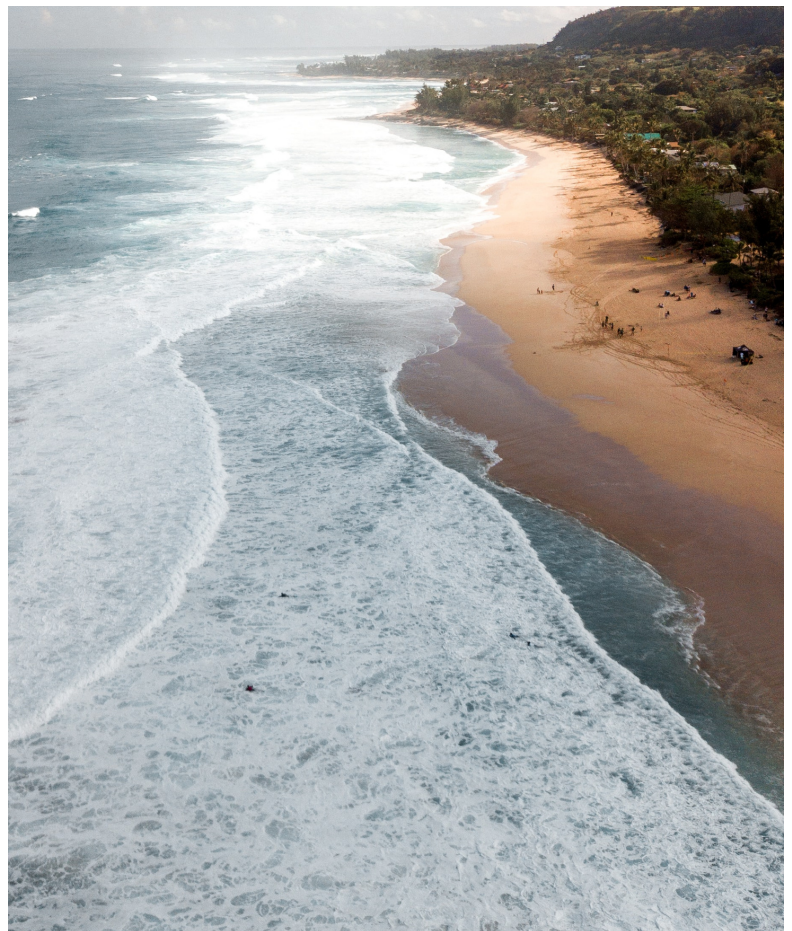

The Department of Health has identified 13 priority areas across the state where cesspools pose the greatest threats. The Hui will work together across all priority areas across the state to:

- Discuss new state or county wastewater initiatives & opportunities to submit testimony.
- Share updates on WAI's current projects in the community and/or across the state.
- Discuss ways to overcome a particular community's wastewater setbacks and solutions.
- Discuss innovative systems that could be implemented in each individual priority area.
- Learn about updates on new state or county wastewater initiatives.
- Hear presentations from WAI's partners or local wastewater engineers and contractors.

WHY JOIN THE CLEAN WATER HUI?

- Gain knowledge of innovative wastewater technologies.
- Conduct public outreach for environmental advocacy.
- Get involved with local legislation to help restore coastal waters.
- Help protect drinking water sources and improve water quality.
- Gain early access to information about donated wastewater systems and financial opportunities.

WAI works to protect water quality, reduce sewage pollution and restore healthy watersheds by providing innovative, affordable, and eco-friendly solutions to waste and wastewater management for all people.
